The Galesburg Debate.

Like a child in the "dark wood," Mr. Douglas, affected by the very vitality of the buried lies he has spoken, wanders hurtly and blindly, frightened and wearied, making the water bleed, striking his own flesh with the rags and pain separating terrors of dead, and striking out fiercely and wildly at his tormentors, who seem to enjoy the noble sport in which he is engaged. The Galesburg meeting was a success to them the people a political coup de grace, forever to put down the slanderer who dares to be free defended; but some condemned by the fact that the man who has long sought to pluck up his chaplet by striking the virgin which he has tortured so long, is now seen to be a thing of no life, plant or be in reputation, a mere wisp for the flames, a thing to be thrown by a mere of real power and dashed to the ground, never more to rise. Full then over before his utter incapacity for a position he had undertaken to fight. The perfidy of his cause and the barrenness of his arguments were brought to light only in the contest; had no one supposed—but even Mr. Douglas himself was astonished, with his fertility of invention and his audacity of assertion, he could go into each of the seven towns of Illinois, and mortify his friends and gladden his enemies by his utter failure to meet the charges with which he was met. To change the figure, he is a naked boy running for life in a reeding place, mocking well known views, here in the day evil there, and there in a jester in the citizen, who makes, under all circumstances, the most ready appearance, and the most serious doleful pain. We wonder our disappointment, and all the hopes of our party regret, that Mr. Lincoln is matched with one whose efforts are to be put forth to destroy all our candidates' powers. The debate is getting to be a Mr. Douglas' funeral oble of Mr. Lincoln's.

Mr. Douglas stands himself; he is played out. His off repeated "arguments" are now worked stumps, though serious at first, do not now even amuse. The defection of the Lincoln and Trumbull conspiracy, a of the Republican administration, and the Democratic party, by the agency of Lecompton, Farnsworth, and Buchanan, the Glorious fraud, and that more delectable, because more odious corruption exercised in Negro Slavery and Amalgamation; familiarity" to pass off as a Democrat, and to dissolve over the lies of "my plan;" charging that Trumbull is a Democrat, and Lincoln a base and willfully false misrepresentation of Republicans and the Republican Party, are all policy, no longer useful a mule or pecuniate a fraud. We have no more to answer to all these charges, and the people, we are daily waiting to be in debate—all are in the direction

The Three-fold Evidence in Proportion to the Dominion of Slavery.

The charge that the North is constantly making aggressions upon the South has been so often urged upon every stump in the nation, and by every Democratic orator in his turn, that we often see it been repeated, that many honest, thinking men, who have not had leave come to regard it as having at least some foundation in fact. But a moment's reflection for days ago by a citizen of the leading Democratic body in our community undeceived the imputation of territory and the organization of new States, and showed that the charge is utterly false. Every one of the aggressions that have already fallen to the Southern side in the North has been the bestowing of land in advancing the political power of the South, and in promoting the political influence in the administration of the federal government. Whenever the fact from the organization of the government to the present day, and can be seen at a glance. Notwithstanding the Democratic party has controlled the affairs of the States, and should be only guarded and conservative have a care for the interests of the federal government, still nothing has been done to increase the power of the North, but every effort to that end has been made by the Southern side in the halls of legislation. We will proceed to show this by a few facts.

1. The Louisiana Purchase was brought about by the efforts of citizens of Northern birth, but of Southern residence, and by the influence of one hundred Indian and gentlemen, who had been long engaged in trade with the Kaskaskia and about eleven o'clock, Mr. Douglas arrived at the depot by a carriage from the Tremont House.

Mr. Lincoln's appearance on the platform was the signal for the assemblage of citizens of Washington, the old and the young, the rich and the poor, of one hundred ladies

The Prospective Restrictions.

Washington, Feb. 20, 1865.

Intelligence from Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia, states that the prospective Restrictions had not returned to that port up to this time.

The Rendezvous of a Chicago Mob Assembled.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—John Buffum, accused of the murder of Mr. Lovejoy, in Chicago, on the night of the Democratic victory, was brought to the jail this afternoon on the 27th of August, by requisition from Governor Yates. He was met at the depot by a large crowd, who escorted him to the jail, where considerable personal abuse. He was not allowed to see his counsel, and the usual privilege of property bonds or bail was denied him.

Governor Gamble has issued a proclamation offering $1,000 reward for the arrest of Buffum. Also on the steamer York State arrested on the charge of being implicated in the murder of Lovejoy, a judicial investigation was in progress at Chicago.

Loss of a Lake Schooner.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The schooner Lucy Ann, bound from Chicago to Buffalo, with a cargo of 15,000 bushels of wheat, was wrecked during the late gale on Lake Michigan, but fortunately, the vessel and crew were saved. The vessel was valued at $10,000, and the cargo at $15,000.

The vessel was owned by Capt. Wilson, of Buffalo.

Florida Election.

Apalachicola, Oct. 1.—The election in Florida yesterday passed off quietly. The vote will be given for Governor Milton, Congressmen Sanford and Cowart, and the Legislature.

Destruction of a Rebel Privateer.

Boston, Oct. 1.—The Liverpool correspondence of the Herald, of the 15th, says the Alabama and Florida have been destroyed by the Federal steamer Wachusett, and all freight and crew landed on Terceira.

Fire in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, Oct. 1.—This morning, about 2 o'clock, a fire broke out in the Atlantic Docks, which has been connected for trial, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court, and the case will be argued before the Court of Appeals when the late amendment is to be.

The Gale on the Ocean.

Quebec, Oct. 1.—The steamer reported put a short time ago into Gaspe Bay, with her boats all lost and badly torn, at first supposed to be the Anglo-Saxon, proves to be the Canadian steamer Ariel, which left Liverpool on the 15th inst. The mate, captain's wife and two passengers were washed overboard in the gale.

New York State Fair.

Saratoga, Sept. 30.—The State Fair commenced this morning. The day was fine, and the attendance large. The display of stock is very fine, and the show of fruit, vegetables and manufactures is unusually large. The show in fact, is the best since the war, and numbers were they prohibited animals and cause an increase of attendance.

Immediately following the inauguration of the Hon. Dr. Flower, Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Hon. Horace Greeley delivered an address on Agriculture. Mr. Greeley commenced by saying, he was down as soon as possible to the subject of Agriculture, and that he was the originator of the Agricultural Department at Washington. He then took Johnston, with reasonable success, to task for his recent speech in the period of Dragoons and men of industry in that. He then proceeded to speak of the Agricultural System. Commencing at B, of the Dragoon, he contrasted of Cap. Flyer, and a Democratic Cap. Flyer, and the latter of the Democratic Cap. Flyer, and the latter of the Democratic Cap. Flyer, and the latter of the

COMMERCIAL

Commercial and Money Matters.

FRIDAY EVENING, Oct. 6.

MONEY, EXCHANGE, &c.—The money market exhibits no material change. Customary remittances source, and the market generally is exceedingly stringent. A few of our city banks are out; but even they have all they want to do to accommodate their customers. Produce and other business paper continues very scarce, and the demand for exchange is relatively more pressed than currency; buyers being generally willing to pay 1 per cent. premium for the latter. Discounts, at usual rates, 7@10 per cent. Gold inactive at nominal rates of 102¼. Silver is sometimes sold at 101¼ and sometimes at 101¾ per cent. per cent.

We regret to learn that Mr. George Ashmun has resigned the local treasurership of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, to assume his late re. During his connection with the Illinois Central Company he carried a high reputation as an energetic, capable railway officer and an able financial officer. With his unrivalled talents and experience, he will prove a valuable acquisition to any railroad. We have not learned the name of his successor.

COMMERCIAL.—The Bradstreet Monetary and Commercial Review of last week says: "Reports of a decline of 10 on Spring, and 25 cents on Winter wheat, and of 5 cents on corn, however, were current on the Produce Exchange, and had an effect on the part of other large operators. Wheat, on which was closed, entirely unchanged, and corn closed also were made at a decline of 5c. on the day. Stock 1,200 barrels Winter, and about 10,000 in Spring; charged barrels at 90@95c. for No. 2 Red; 95c. for No. 1 Spring; 90@95c. for No. 2 Spring; 80@85c. for No. 3 Spring; and 60@65c. for Rejected. Stock of corn, 1,000 bushels; charged barrels at 90@95c. for No. 2, and 65c. for Rejected—the market closing easier.

The Oats market was irregularly dull. Only one sale was reported, 5,000 bushels, at 35c. for No. 2, and 34c. for Rejected—the market closing easier.

The Rye market was irregularly dull. Only one sale was reported, 5,000 bushels, at 60c. for No. 2.

The Barley market was dull and heavy, and but little was offered or sold for prompt delivery. Receipts of 4,000 bushels. Sales, 5,000 bushels, at 90c. for No. 2. Stock on hand, 10,000 bushels
